

INCREASED PAY FOR LEGISLATORS IS FROWNED UPON

County Returns Small Majority Against Change in Basic Law

By the narrow margin of 88 votes in 43 out of 47 precincts in the county, Outagamie electors have turned down the constitutional amendment which would increase the salaries of legislators from $500 a term to $750 a year. It is possible, but improbable, that the remaining precincts will change the vote sufficiently to place the amendment on record as favoring adoption of the amendment.

Appleton and Kaukauna both gave the amendment large endorsement but it failed to hold its own in the rural districts where some large majorities were returned against it. Farmers apparently do not believe the salaries of the state's lawmakers should be increased.

Legislators now are receiving $500 for a term of two years. The amendment would increase the pay to $750 a year or $1,500 for a term of two years.

Following is the vote of the amendment in 43 precincts:

Didn't Know His Brother
"My brother got so bad with stomach and liver trouble that when I saw him after a year I didn't know him. He was emaciated and yellow as a pumpkin and was often in great pain. He couldn't have lived long the way he was going. Doctors and medicine gave him no relief. I picked up a little booklet on Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which he said described his case perfectly. The first dose of it gave him great relief and in a month he was good as ever." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. GOODLAND, RULE. BOSSER WINNERS IN CITY ELECTION

New Mayor Gets Majority in 11 Out of 12 Precincts in City

By 263 majority for Mr. Keller. The Sixth ward ran true to expectations, returning a majority of 667 for the successful candidate. The Second ward also was expected to be almost an even break but it added more than 200 to Mr. Goodland's lead.
What was expected to be a rather quiet majority campaign when the candidates were announced turned out to be a bitterly contested affair. The defeat of Mr. Keller is interpreted by his friends as an expression of disapproval of Mr. Keller's activities during the World war when he was chairman of the county council of defense and instrumental in establishing a splendid record of patriotism for the county. Mr. Goodland also was a member of the council of defense.

WAS COMMISSIONER

The new mayor has had considerable experience as a city official. He was a member of the commission council for four years, being defeated by August Gerlach when he was a candidate for reelection, and he also was city treasurer for twelve years. Mr. Goodland is a son of the late Judge John Goodland and has lived in Appleton practically all his life. He has been connected with various enterprises here in the last quarter century or more.
The new city attorney, Mr. Bossert, is an Appleton product. He served as a lieutenant in the World war and was adjutant of Oney Johnston post of the American legion until he announced his candidacy for city office. He has maintained an office in the Odd Fellow building, occupying the quarters formerly used by Judge John Bottensack of the county court.
A sharp campaign was directed against the reelection of Albert C. Rule as assessor but the huge majority he received indicates an overwhelming confidence in him. He has been assessor since the return to aldermanic government before that he was assessor of incomes for Outagamie and Waupaca cos.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail tins naturally outward almost over night.
"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

YOUR QUESTION AND ITS ANSWER

QUESTION—"Friends of mine got well with few adjustments, while others had to take many of them. Why such a difference in time required?"

ANSWER—Several reasons. Some impingements are easier to correct than others. For instance, first and second dorsal pressure is more difficult to correct than lower dorsal pressure. Bony segments of the spine sometimes become "ankylosed" or united by a false growth, and when this condition exists the element of time is required. There is a difference in patients, some respond slower than others, due to age and duration of illness. Again the various ailments resulting from impinged nerves have different amounts of structural changes, degeneration of tissues or depletion of nerve strength. There are no two cases alike, but each must be studied and adjusted in accordance with different conditions found.

NEW PAINT PLANT WILL BE STARTED BY A. H. MILLEN

Factory With Output of 300
Gallons a Day Will Be Located on Morrison-st

Appleton is to have another new industry in operation within about ten days called the General Paint company. The concern is being established at 778 Morrison-st by A. H. Mil- len, 417 Pacific-st, who has been as- sociated with some of the large paint concerns of the country for more than 20 years in sales capacity.

Mr. Mil- len will be sole owner of the concern. He has leased a build- ing south of the Northwestern Pe- troleum company's warehouse. It is owned by Daniel P. Steinberg and S. A. Wheden and contains more than 2,500 square feet of floor space. Re- modeling has been begun, including construction of new floors, addition of windows and general renovation.

Machinery is on its way here from New York and will be set up within a few days. The equipment will be of a type which will do work of high efficiency with a minimum of labor. The plant will have a capacity at the start of 300 gallons of paint a day. Most of the output will be house and barn paints, flat varieties for interior walls and special industrial paints for upkeep of buildings. Sales will be made largely to painting contractors and consumers through a force of four or five men whom Mr. Mil- len will place on the road.

Offices are to be maintained in the Northwestern Petroleum company's building, which is opposite to the fac- tory.

ON THE SCREEN

LITTLE SCREEN STAR UN- SPOILED AFTER SUCCESS

Baby Peggy, the little youngster who is entrusted with the starring role in "The Darling of New York," the Universal-Jewel production to be placed at the Elit theater tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, has the faculty of being the same natural child in front of the camera that one would imagine her elsewhere.

She is just a charming little girl at play. It doesn't seem as though she were acting. This is a matter of skilled direction and the fact that the child is too young to be affected temperamentally by the responsibility that rests on her, as well as natural ability.

NAME THE MAN

Whether or not a woman should forgive everything in the man she loves is the underlying theme of the Goldwyn photoplay, "Name the Man," which is showing at the Elit theater tonight for the last time. Whether her love should triumph and her pride be submerged no matter what he has done, or whether she should let him suffer out his own salvation, is the problem presented.

In Hall Caine's characters from "The Master of Man," the question is worked out. Conrad Nagel as Vic- tor Stowell, Patry Ruth Miller as Fennella, and Mae Busch as Bessie Collister, are the principals involved. "Victor, who really loves Fennella, is caught in a web of circumstance and sin. Bessie, the victim of cir- cumstance also, does everything in her power to protect him from the girl he loves and from his public. But when suspicion dawns upon Fennella, and she realizes that he is guilty, her only comment is a sharp slap across his face.

However, when facing an incensed mob, he makes a complete confession, she glories in his honesty, her love again triumphs and she rushes to pro- tect him from being stoned.

NORMA TALMADGE AND CON- WAY TEEBLE IN WILKIE COLLINS STORY

Norma Talmadge, famed beauty of the screen, is coming to the New Bi- jou Theatre today and Thursday in "She Loves and Lies," a comedy drama founded on Wilkie Collins' story of the same name.

In this play, Miss Talmadge por- trays two sides of the well known eternal triangle, being her own rival for the affections of her husband. Miss Talmadge as Marie Callender finds herself wed to a certain Mr. Lie- more, whom she marries in a philan- thropic mood, to help him tide over some financial worries. It is purely a marriage of convenience, but as time passes Marie finds the "marri- age of convenience" extremely dull; whereupon she searches for a meth- od of winning her husband's love. The plan she eventually hits upon is unique to say the least. Realizing that she cannot flirt with him at home under the circumstances, she goes elsewhere.

Greenwich Village, the celebrated habitat of the folks whom Irvin S. Cobb has nicknamed the "Hobohemi- ans" is the site of much of the action in the play.

Conway Teeble, as her handsome husband, also has a role well suited to his talents and is an admirable foil to the fun of the star. The rest of the cast is excellent.

Charcoal Manufacturing Was Important Industry In Appleton From '69-'89

Farmers Denuded Forests to Supply Cordwood for Kilns
Located in All Parts of County.

BY W. F. WINSEY

Charcoal manufacture is scarcely remembered by most of residents of this county, but this industry was a flourishing one in the days of 1869 to 1889. The seat of this industry was at Appleton, although other charcoal kilns were located near Sey- mour, Mackville, Apple Creek and Bear Creek.

The industry drew hundreds of lum- ber men from other parts of the state and kept early settlers busy turning the forests into cord wood and haul- ing it to the kilns, moving it over the tramways from kiln to kiln, and coal for transportation to the Apple- ton Furnace company to be used for smelting purposes in turning iron in- to pig iron.

All the kilns except those at the Mac Henes farm near Seymour were owned and operated by the Apple- ton Furnace company, which not only made charcoal from the timber on its own lands but also all the cord wood there were ten kilns at Appleton, eight at Apple Creek, on the John Dierker farm, seven at Mackville near the Lutheran church and nine on the John Smith farm near Bear Creek.

Most of the kilns have been razed. Each Bear Creek kiln had a capac- ity of 30 cords of 4 foot wood. The wood was conveyed from the piles to the doors of the kilns on tramways and the first pile in the kiln was made around the walls with one end of the stack butting the wall. So the piles were circular, one pile nearer the cen- ter of the kiln than the other. The wood in this way was piled 14 feet high and other piles made a bridge over the lower piles. Kindling was placed in the center of kiln and reached by a torch through a tunnel under the piles to start the fire.

By regulating the vents, the fire could be distributed from one part of the kiln to every other part and could always be kept under complete con- trol.

It took John Smith, foreman of Bear Creek kilns with a crew of five men, one day to fill a kiln with cord wood, seven days to do the firing, sev- eral days to do the cooling and one day to load the charcoal from one kiln in a freight car.

Mr. Smith says that as a result of 60,000 Rubles Isn't Worth Sending For

Falling heir to thousands of even millions in Russian money, though it would have created great excitement 10 years ago does not even get a lift of the eyebrows now. But it did make the heart of a young man in the town of Harrison beat a little faster when he received a letter from Russia that he was heir to 60,000 rubles. Before the war 60,000 rubles would have meant at least $12,000. But when the young man, who is em- ployed on a farm, investigated he learned that it was not worth the postage to have the rubles sent over.

Continuance of the manufacture of charcoal in Outagamie county. Mr. Smith purchased the 80 acres of land on which the kilns were located from the furnace company and immediately set about clearing the land of brush and stone and breaking it in anticipa- tion of spending the balance of his life in the occupation of farming.

THE MOTORIST buys gasoline at frequent intervals and pays cash for it, because the unit of purchase is small.

For this reason the price of gasoline is ever- present in his mind.

But, in fairness, the price of gasoline should be considered in relation to other fixed charges in- cident to the operation of his automobile.

Petroleum Age, in its issue of February 1, 1924, states that "reliable figures obtained in the study of the operation cost of automobiles in oil field service between July, 1922, and July, 1923, shows that the average cost per mile for cars ranging in price from $400.00 to $1,400.00 each was 10c. During that period approximately 22c per gallon was paid for gasoline."

Computing the average mileage at 15 miles per gallon it is shown that out of a mileage cost of 10c gasoline represented less than 1 1/4c. In other words the 1 1/4c wags the 8 3/4c, and the 1 1/4c covers the hazard of drilling and bringing the crude oil above ground—its transportation to the refinery—storage—refining—maintenance of the refineries—transporting of gasoline—bulk storage depots—delivery system, including tank wagons and service stations—cost of labor—and a fair and reasonable profit.

If the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and others engaged in the petroleum industry had not expended millions in experiment and re- search, which has resulted in taking from crude petroleum scores of other products, the present low price of gasoline could not be maintained. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), because of its advanced work in refining petroleum, has been able to recover these other products with- out in any way affecting the quality of the gasoline.

In this way the operations of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) accrue to the advantage of the consumer in keeping the price of gasoline down to a point where the man of modest means can enjoy the pleasures of motoring without bearing a burdensome charge for fuel to propel his car.

Gasoline, in relation to the service it renders, is one of the cheapest commodities yet discovered.

DAUGHERTY'S SUCCESSOR

Much interest naturally attaches to the selection President Coolidge will make as a successor to Mr. Daugherty. The appointment will be of considerable political importance. The importance will lie in the particular school of thought and social and economic tendency to which the appointee belongs. That portion of the people which believes in old fashioned Americanism and progressive politics hopes that he will nominate a man of this type. Such for instance, as Judge Kenyon would represent. He is perhaps the most conspicuous figure of the western progressive wing of the Republican party open to the appointment. Judge Kenyon was the leader of the farm bloc in the senate, and possesses the confidence of the west to an unusual degree. He was appointed to the federal bench by President Harding and only recently declined the navy portfolio. His name is said to be seriously under consideration.

Word comes from Washington that Senator Lodge has hastened to the White house to tell Mr. Coolidge not to appoint Judge Kenyon on the ground that he is a radical. If Mr. Coolidge listens to such advice he will nominate a reactionary, some agent of the Old Guard. It was the Old Guard that got President Harding in bad by taking over the appointments and policies of his administration. In the background, it is the type of politics it represents that is responsible for the corruption and graft uncovered at Washington. Most of this scandal is directly attributable to the influence of the best minds.

The country does not expect Mr. Coolidge to go to the opposite extreme and depend for his administrative assistance upon radicals, but it does expect him to junk the Old Guard and strike out on more progressive lines. It wants a man in the office of attorney-general upon whom it can rely to complete the housecleaning the senate investigation has started, one who will administer the laws fearlessly, impartially and adequately. It would have no confidence in an Old Guard appointee, no matter what his ability. From the political angle, the president would strengthen himself more by a progressive than by a reactionary appointment. Real significance will attach to his choice for attorney-general. It will signify the bent of his mind, which is still more or less unrevealed to the public.

DISCIPLINE OF ILL-HEALTH

Health is a blessing; sickness may be a discipline.

Not many men or women are able to live their lives from babyhood to old age without having had to spend some portion of them on beds of pain. One moment we may be in the full flush of health. The next, we may be facing long months of weary suffering.

When the battle against disease or mortal injury is at its height, there is little opportunity to cultivate the graces that so often make the sickroom a place of cheer and admiration. It is only when the tide has begun to turn toward the restoration of full health that the discipline of sickness is encountered. Then it is that every small incident and item of the dragging hours take on the meaning of greatness.

A friendly visitor, a handful of flowers, a kindly inquiry by telephone, or a gracious word by mail are remembered as among the high lights of the day. Every little commonplace thing in the room becomes transformed to something pleasant to the sufferer who has been through the valley of the shadow. Everything seems beautiful; everybody wonderful.

In these days of hurried living, few are afforded the opportunity for reflection until they are laid on their backs in bed. Then it is a man will turn his mind from the outward world of things to the inner world of thought. Sickness becomes a mirror in which he sees himself as he really is. Many a good resolution has been made in a darkened sickroom, and many a new path blazed there that has resulted in good both for the individual and for humanity.

Of course there are some who are not improved in character by the discipline of sickness. But they are few and far between. Poor indeed is that mind not altered in its outlook and its sense of purpose in life by the experiences of ill health. Sympathies are quickened, the understanding of others is enhanced, the appeal of weakness and helplessness is comprehended by those who have learned the blessing of these virtues, as they lay, sleepless, on beds of pain.

OIL CONSERVATION

President Coolidge's announcement in appointing a commission to ascertain the best means of conserving the nation's oil supply will further intensify the general impression of the scarcity of oil. "At the present rate of production," says Mr. Coolidge, "there is estimated to be but twenty years of oil supply within the limits of the United States. When this is exhausted we will depend upon foreign sources for our supply. In time of war such supply will certainly be jeopardized and possibly cut off. Unless, therefore, the navy has conserved in this country sufficient oil wherewith to fight a war, our national security is seriously endangered."

Sooner or later, presumably, our oil supply will dwindle; and considering, among other things, the wasteful methods employed by producers the creation of this commission is undoubtedly wise. While awaiting the results of its investigations, however, a glance at the situation indicates that there is no need of immediate serious alarm. For the estimate of the quantity of oil remaining in the ground is purely hypothetical. No one knows a great deal about it, and one geologist's guess may be as good as another's. We cannot help remembering, furthermore, that for reasons well known to themselves standard oil interests have been making dire forecasts for years. Incidentally, this affords an excellent basis for the increase of prices of their products, as also for inciting the government to bring pressure upon foreign governments, in what should be purely commercial transactions, with regard to their own holdings, or oil lands controlled by them.

As a matter of fact, oil production in this country, about 62 per cent of the world's output, has more than doubled itself every ten years since 1860. The rate of increase of 1922 over the preceding year is 17.5 per cent, and still production increases. It would be as good a risk, at least, to predict that the oil supply will hold up for forty years as that it will be exhausted in twenty.

In 1922 a committee representing the U. S. Geological survey and the American Association of Petroleum geologists, conjointly, limited the native supply to twenty years. Dr. David White of the Survey maintained in 1920 that the peak of production would be passed in three to five years. Two years later the production was greater than Dr. White said it ever could be. Last year it was still greater. On the other hand, Professor Wilson, formerly of the survey, advanced arguments calculated to prove that the supply should last fifty years. Thus one guess balances another.

Nevertheless conservation of our natural resources has been too much neglected during the squandering of our national patrimony; it deserves public and official support. Even if it were clearly demonstrable that the oil supply will last for sixty or a hundred years instead of twenty, that is no reason for wasting it. The commission's report may hasten the general use of hydro-electric power throughout the country; it may effect an earlier adoption of the most economic internal combustion engine on ships using fuel oil.

A commission to study the best means of conserving the nation's oil supply is of the highest importance. It will show us not only how we can best husband this resource for commercial use, but also in what way we can best handle and protect it for the use of the navy and the national defense.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

THE HALL-DRAKE COMPLEX

Precisely what a complex is I beg to be excused from trying to explain, but anyway complexes are all the rage and nearly everybody has 'em nowadays, I rather from what I hear of the higher culture.

In reply to many inquiries I have repeatedly recommended the following pamphlet or books dealing with sex education:

For Boys
"John's Vacation"—for boys from 10 to 15.
"Chums"—for boys 16 to 18.
For Girls
"Margaret, the Doctor's Daughter"—for girls 12 to 14.
"Life's Problems"—for girls 15 to 18.
These four pamphlets are by Dr. Winfield S. Hall, emeritus professor of physiology, Northwestern University Medical School. They are published, at 25 cents a copy, by the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois. Parents who wish to give children the right sort of instruction will find these pamphlets exceedingly helpful.

For Mothers of Little Girls
"The Wonderful Story of Life"—a mother's talk with her daughter regarding life and its reproduction, an excellent outline for mother to follow in answering the little girl's first questions and the big girl's natural desire for enlightenment. This pamphlet, by an unknown author or authors, is issued by the U. S. Public Health Service, and anybody may obtain a copy by sending five cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., and mentioning the pamphlet wanted. The Public Health Service did issue also a series of free pamphlets dealing with various aspects of Sex Education—Set A for young men, Set C for boys, Set E for girls and young women, and I believe some of these are still obtainable. Many of the state health departments had them for distribution for a time after the war. There was a Set F for educators.

For Parents
"The Parents' Guide," a book by Ozora S. Davis, president of Chicago Theological Seminary, and Dr. Emma F. Angell Drake, published by J. L. Nichols Company, Naperville, Ill. This book gives father a simple solution of the problem of teaching the boy as a father should teach his boy, and it provides as good a plan for mother and daughter.

These pamphlets and books do not meet entirely the requirements of Sex Education, of course. That is done only by personal instruction and by teachers especially trained for that difficult branch of pedagogy. No one who has not received training for this particular field should attempt to teach the subject professionally. Above all, no school teacher nor other teacher should attempt to give sex instruction of any kind unless requested by the parents to do so.

In Dr. Hall's pamphlet for girls 15 to 18, as well as in Dr. Drake's book, there are some quaint allusions to the alleged dangers of getting the feet wet or taking the ordinary daily baths or exercises—mid-Victorian superstitions, Pinkneque and morbid, but these notions need not detract from the wholesomeness and usefulness of the pamphlets in their field of sex education proper.

Dr. Winfield S. Hall is a physician, all right, but he doesn't go so far with the complex. What the two authors seem to look upon as a disease is, as we conceive it nowadays, merely a function. Being a physical function it calls for no particular pampering or mollycoddling of the body, and as a matter of everyday observation those young women who do not pamper or coddle themselves on account of this function enjoy the highest degree of comfort and health in the long run.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Chemical Versus Mechanical Shave

Do you recommend—for the removal of hair under the arms or from the face? Will it really destroy the hair growth permanently? (O. M.)
Answer.—No. If the hair must be removed I think a mechanical shaver is preferable to a chemical one. A small safety razor will remove hair as "permanently" as any chemical preparation.

MY RADIO

The hours I spend with thee, dear heart,
Are fraught with joy and bliss, although

At times I'd like to kick apart
My radio, my radio.

Each word a shriek, each song a blare.

But still I tune and tune in vain,
I listen into the end, and there

You screech again.

Oh, tuning coil that makes me cross,
I wish that I could cure your static groan.

But you're a loss, sweetheart.

A total loss.

WOMEN WHO LOOK OLD

In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are over-worked, over-tired, nervous and run-down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.

CLOSE FINISHES FEATURE ELECTION DAY AT KAUKAUNA

Several Candidates Elected to Office by Narrow Margins

Kaukauna—Several close races for city offices featured the spring election in this city Tuesday. While there was no opposition for the office of mayor, city clerk or assessor, competition was keen in other fields and not a few of the candidates were elected by only a few votes majority. In the First ward John H. Niesen lost in the race for county supervisor to Charles J. Faust by one vote. The count was unofficially announced as 230 and 231.

In the Second ward Charles Wendt won the office of county supervisor over John C. Mitchell by two votes. Wendt polled 293 votes while Mitchell trailed with 291. Otto M. Ludtke defeated Charles D. Towisey for alderman in that ward by a majority of 25 votes.

Friends of Peter J. Esler wrote his name on the ballot and elected him alderman from the Fifth ward over Joseph J. Hurst by a large majority. Esler had previously circulated nomination papers but filed them too late.

and was disqualified. Esler polled 90 votes and Hurst received 38.

Arthur R. Firehammer was elected alderman from the Third ward, defeating Henry J. Derfus 374 to 309. John Schmidt will represent the ward on the county board by virtue of his victory over Carl D. Trettin. Schmidt polled 342 votes while 313 were cast for Trettin.

W. H. Copp had an easy win over Peter E. Van Dyke, receiving 265 votes while the latter polled only 186. The supervisor, A. P. Anderson, was unopposed. Supervisor Fred Reichel from the Fifth ward also was without opposition.

A close race developed in the race for city treasurer. Although five candidates were in the field the real fight was between Albert Lindstrom and William J. Paschen, the former being elected by a majority of 50 votes. Lindstrom carried the First, Second and Fifth wards and Paschen carried the Third and Fourth wards.

N. M. Haupt and James E. McFadden were re-elected to the school board for three year terms by comfortable majorities. Lester J. Brenzel nosed out Roland Osburn for school commissioner for one year. Fred Konrad and Elizabeth B. Swarthout opposed McFadden and Haupt.

Ouch! That's Neuritis

Morning, noon or night that sharp, piercing pain smites you in the shoulder, arm or nape of the neck. Eopa Neuritis Tablets are compounded, especially for the treatment of neuritis in all its forms. They help to remove inflammation and restore the diseased nerves to sound condition. Begin taking Eopa Neuritis Tablets today and watch your pains fade away. Perfectly harmless, but wonderfully effective. Price, $1.00 per bottle. Delegates-at-large received larger votes than were cast for district delegates. It also was evident that candidates whose names were near the tops of the ballots received larger votes than those whose names were near the end of the list.

FORGOT TO PRINT NAME ON BALLOT

A mistake in the printed ballots used in the two precincts of the Fifth ward caused a considerable flurry Tuesday morning among the election boards. It was discovered quite early that the name of John Kohl, the candidate who opposed Peter Rademacher for election as county supervisor from the Fifth ward had been omitted. An effort was made to rectify the error at once. L. W. Williams, city clerk, was given to the printers to print a new supply of ballots for the Fifth ward. In the meantime election boards used rubber stamps to print the name of Mr. Kohl on the ballots. When the boards counted the ballots, those votes which had been cast before the mistake was discovered were declared illegal. The majority of Mr. Rademacher over Mr. Kohl was 68 votes.

ZONING BOARD MAY HOLD MEETING THIS MONTH

No meeting of the zoning board of appeals was held Tuesday evening, although scheduled. The board already had organized at a meeting held the latter part of March. It is expected the next regular meeting date, before the next regular meeting date, May 6, for the purpose of investigating certain appeals on permits refused to prospective builders on the grounds that the building does not conform with the zoning ordinance.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two more building permits were issued Tuesday from the office of the city engineer and building inspector. The total number of permits gathered thus far is 68.

Following are the permits:

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

MY DEAR DAUGHTER, I can't understand why we have not received a letter from you lately. Your father said the other day with a queer little smile that he expected he would have to be dangerously ill again if he wanted to hear from you with any regularity. You were so faithful while he was ill that I expect you got him into the bad habit of expecting a daily letter.

Of course, dear, I know how it is because it is very human when we know our friends and relatives are perfectly well and happy to neglect them a little while pursuing our own health and happiness.

You may be surprised to learn that your father and I are going to London on the Mauretania, which sails on the tenth. I hope you will come down to see us off.

Your father is still far from well and I have persuaded him to give up all thought of business. Besides, we are perhaps foolishly anxious to see our daughter in her presentation robes. I think they must be very wonderful because she has been spending a very great deal of money.

In any of her letter to you, Leslie, has Alice intimated in any way that Karl is in love with her? Although she has said nothing to me on the subject I have somehow got that impression. Of course I would be very happy if this thing should happen, for I think Alice has always had a great admiration and respect for Karl. Of course we all knew that Karl was hopelessly in love with you and if he had recovered and fallen in love with Alice, I am sure both your father and I would be delighted as we are both very fond of him.

She has been talking a great deal lately in my letters about a young Englishman and I'd like to go over and see for myself what chances Karl has with her. You know, Leslie, that Alice is very headstrong about her own affairs. I have always felt, dear, that she was a little resentful of you. In her great admiration for Karl she felt that you did not treat him right—in fact I heard her say so—when you married John. Then she was so happy when he decided to go to England with her that I hoped at the time that she and Karl would make a match.

Lately, however, she has seemed to be a little worried about something and has kept asking questions about you and your affairs. Among other things she asked me if you had had your beads strung. I expect she means those pearl beads she gave you. I did not know you had broken them.

We are leaving day after tomorrow for New York and will be in town about a week. Do you suppose you could leave that blessed baby of yours in Nannie's care long enough to come down and stay a day or two with us?

Telegraph me if this can be done. Lovingly, MOTHER.

Will meet you in New York on the fifth. Expect you will be at the Waldorf. LESLIE. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

A mushroom or great parosol?
I never see you when the weather is dry,
Which puzzles my brain most of all!"

"Is it a mushroom?" asked Greedy Man. "I wish it was and that I could eat it with pepper and salt."
"No!" the Riddle Lady shook her head.

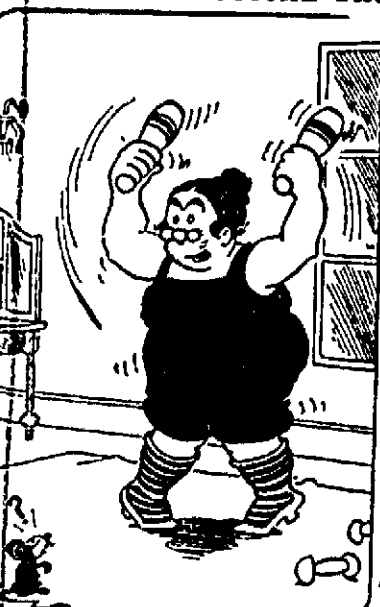

"Is it a Chinese bridge?" asked Baby Sniffee. "If it is I shall walk across the ocean after this because I'm tired of sailing."
"No!" the Riddle Lady shook her head again. "That's not it either."
"It's a rainbow, isn't it?" said Nick.

"Why, of course it is," cried everybody. "It's as easy as pie when you know the answer. 'It's a rainbow.'"
"Yes, that's right," said the Riddle Lady. "The prize is an umbrella. Nick, and if you don't use one, give it to Nancy."

"I wonder who is going to guess my new riddle?" said the Riddle Lady.
"Nick and I will guess as hard as we can, won't we, Nick?" answered Nancy. "We just love riddles!"

"We all love riddles," said the Riddle Lady, and the Mother Goose people crowded closer.
"Well, this one is hard," warned the Riddle Lady. "So think hard!" And she began:

"Are you a jumping rope up in the sky,
That the giant's children use?
If that's what you are I should like to know why.
You are colored with marvelous hues."

"Or are you a bridge where the little Chinese

Because if you are, I will send for a star.

That divides earth from far fairy-land.
And through your wide portals the wee faeries march.
To the tune of the fairy king's hand."

"Or perhaps you're the awning the faeries spread out.
To protect fairyland from the rain.
Four stripes must be water-proof, I have no doubt.
The way your bright colors remain."

"Or is it a fact that your colors do run,
And drops of them fall on the flowers?
For they always seem brighter when out comes the sun.

Fond du Lac Charges Bring Protest From Appleton High Chief

Fondy Sport Scribe Places
Blame for Protest of Dew and Johnson on Orange Athletic Magnates.

Coaches and officials of the Fox River Valley High School conference will meet in the Conway hotel here on Wednesday, April 3, to discuss the basketball schedule for next year and settle other important matters relating to the conference.

One of the matters which will be taken up at this conference is the charge made by the Daily Commonwealth of Fond du Lac in its report of the semi-final state tournament game between Fond du Lac and Appleton, regarding a protest against Dew and Johnson of the Fond du Lac basketball quartet, made shortly before the conference game in which the Red and White met Oshkosh. The part of the report to which objection is raised follows verbatim:

"The players were informed just before the game that Appleton was responsible for the ludicrous protest over the eligibility of Captain Dew and Johnson just before the Oshkosh game last February.

This gave the fellows another grudge to settle, and they did it by whipping the Orange and Blue in a game that will be remembered by students and university officials as long as state tournaments are held."

OSHKOSH PROTESTED
As a matter of fact, the protest against the two Fondy players was made by Oshkosh and not by Appleton. Furthermore, it appeared justifiable according to the rules of the conference. In reporting its eligibility, Fond du Lac first classed Dew and Johnson as ninth semester men. Later when it appeared they would not be permitted to play under these conditions, the matter was taken up by conference officials, on which occasion Fond du Lac offered as an excuse that the men in question were carrying several eighth grade subjects during their first year in high school. The school got away with the excuse and was permitted to retain the players on its team.

Ever since that time, Fond du Lac has been harping on the protest which it designates as "unsportsmanlike" and "ludicrous." The blame has been placed on almost every school in the conference, Appleton being the latest victim. Lee C. Rasey, principal of Appleton high school, has declared his intention of taking the matter up with the proper authorities in order to settle it once and for all.

Star Rookies Older By Far Than Manager

Tampa, Fla.—Stanley Harris, the 27-year-old Washington manager, is the youngest team leader in the majors.

By an odd whim of fate, two of Harris' most promising "rookies" are well beyond the 30-year-old mark. One is Joe Martina, a right-handed pitcher, who came up from New Orleans. Martina has been pitching for 14 years. Yet Harris thinks he has enough stuff to stick.

The other ancient rookie is Thompson Frothing, who is to start the season at third base, the weak spot on the Washington team. Last year he was the star third baseman in the Southern League.

Philadelphia Club Is Weakest In Big Leagues

Leesburg, Fla.—The Phillies have about as much to look forward to as a milk fed hen that has fallen reluctantly but none the less securely into the hands of a dark skinned midnight prowler. Which is to say they will finish no worse than eighth.

The magnanimous Mr. Baker, who owns the ball club, hasn't spent a dime to strengthen it—and the Phillies happen to be a ball club that doesn't need strengthening any more than a horse needs hoofs.

Last year the Phillies finished as earnest and emphatic last. You'd naturally think that some serious effort would be made to rebuild, Connie Mack, for example, didn't hesitate to pay sizable sums for new faces after his Athletics pulled up lame in sixth place. This seems to show that the material was available.

Now consider what the big hearted Mr. Baker has done to give the Philadelphia fans a season's entertainment.

His two most promising pitchers among the newcomers are Howard Carlson, a Pittsburgh discard, who was drafted from Wichita Falls, and the ancient Earl Hamilton. No other major league club thought enough of Carlson to buy him, so he fell to the frugal Mr. Baker in the draft.

Hamilton, long since through as an effective workman, was picked up for nothing, a live agent.

Renny Hefner and Leonard Metz are the outstanding infield prospects. All Hefner cost was car fare from

CY WILLIAMS
The Philadelphia National team is a colorless big league aggregation if there ever was one. Cy Williams, who is 1-1 Babe Ruth for home run honors with 41 last season, is the only star on the club.

GRIFFITH DENIES MEDDLING WITH CLUB'S MANAGER

Owner of Washington Ball Club
Disclaims Responsibility for Changes

Tampa, Fla.—Having had four new managers in as many seasons the belief exists that managing the Washington ball club is no part of an agreeable assignment.

In some circles Clarke Griffith, owner of the club, is accused of interfering with the managerial activities.

This year the club is under a new manager, Stanley Harris, the 27-year-old second baseman. Harris replaces Donie Bush, who lifted the club to a first division berth last summer.

"Harris is the sole manager of this ball club," Griffith states with an earnest emphasis when the question is put to him, "and Bush was the sole manager last year."

"No one but an experienced baseball man would ever attempt to interfere with a capable team leader, and I am not exactly inexperienced. I think Harris will do splendidly with the club this year and if he does I want to see him get the full credit."

NEW YORK CELTICS ARE REAL CAGING CHAMPIONS

The New York Celtics certainly deserve the title of world's professional basketball champions. Playing on an average of five games a week during the season the Celtics won 114 of their 121 games, an average of .942. Most of the games were played on foreign floors.

Takes Tilden's Place

Special to Post-Crescent

Los Angeles.—The announcement today that Benjamin H. Turpin III, celebrated buffoon of the films, will play for America in the Olympic tennis matches started the sport world.

Turpin is to replace William Tilden II, national champion and one of the greatest players of all time. Tilden was rendered ineligible to compete by the recently adopted rule barring paid writers from amateur competition.

At first the tennis world was inclined to accept the statement that Turpin would be a member of the Olympic team as the work of a wag. Then it became known that Turpin has been playing tennis for more than 20 years, and is the holder of numerous trophies.

As is generally known, Turpin is afflicted with crossed vision. This condition has netted him a fortune in the screen comics. It also develops that his great skill as a tennis player is directly attributable to this same condition.

Turpin appears to be looking in one direction, then hits the ball in the opposite direction. This is said to have a most befuddling effect on the opposition and gives Turpin an unusual advantage. Turpin has been known to win set after set without having a single return made on his service.

It is reported that Turpin defeated Tilden decisively in a private match here some months ago when the national champion was "visiting in Hollywood. Owing to the actor's native abhorrence for publicity the result of the match was not made public.

Turpin has not positively decided that he will have time to make the trip abroad. He is engaged currently in making a new dramatic spectacle, entitled "Home and Honor," and it is his wish to finish this before turning to tennis.

Turpin promises to announce definitely his intentions to officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association the first of the month.

Yes, the first of the month is the first of April, isn't it?

Damn these April Fool things anyway!

FIVE HOME TILTS FEATURE ORANGE 1924 GRID MENU

Season Opens with Game in Sheboygan on Oct. 4; Ends
With Marinette Here

Appleton high school football fans will see five of the best Valley conference games in this city during the 1924 season, according to the schedule which has been adopted by the magnates. The first game of the season is scheduled for Oct. 4, in Sheboygan. The second, with Fond du Lac, will be played there a week later on Oct. 11.

Manitowoc invades this city on October 18, for the first home game of the year, and LaCrosse meets the Orange on the Lawrence grid either on Oct. 24 or 25. The exact date has not been set, owing to the uncertain date of the Ripon-LaCrosse game here. This contest will be played either on Friday or Saturday, depending on the final arrangements made between Ripon and the Blue.

West Green Bay, Oshkosh and Marinette also are due to play here, the latter two in the final games of the season. Oshkosh and Marinette always have been two of the strongest teams in the conference, and the fact that these games come at the end of the season and on home territory will be a great advantage to the Orange.

Following is the schedule as it now stands:

Oct. 4, Sheboygan there; Oct. 11, Fond du Lac, there; Oct. 18, Manitowoc, here; Oct. 24, or 25, LaCrosse, here; Nov. 1, Kaukauna, there; Nov. 8, West Green Bay, here; Nov. 15, East Green Bay, there; Nov. 22, Oshkosh, here; Nov. 27, Marinette, here.

ROWDY ELLIOT WILL BE RACINE HIGH GRID COACH

Racine.—Rowdy Elliott, all-Western football star of the University of Wisconsin a few years ago, has been selected as coach of the Racine High school baseball team for 1924. Rowdy will have complete charge of the nine. Elliott won his baseball honors at Madison where he was the manager of the 1921 team. The last two years have seen him starring in semi-pro baseball. Two hundred high school boys have turned out for athletics here.

Last season Rowdy Elliott played several games with the Appleton club of the Wisconsin State baseball league, filling the position at third base.

Jack Moves His Camp To Screen City

By Associated Press

Los Angeles, Calif.—Champion Jack Dempsey Tuesday was making preparations for a busy season regardless of whether he fights. He has started to move headquarters and training camp to the "hot" at Universal city following announcement that he had signed a contract calling for $1,000,000 salary for ten motion pictures to be completed within two years. Many rumors of possible matches for the heavyweight title were put to rest after a conference at Tia Juana, Mex., Monday, between Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, and James Coffroth, race promoter. Kearns said he believes it improbable that Dempsey will fight at Tia Juana as Coffroth does not want to stage a fight there until November or December. "Dempsey," added Kearns "will fight in September if we have to promote the bout ourselves."

Freddie McLeod, Columbia Country club, tied Barnes with 145-74-73-292 Gene Sarazen, Brian Cliff, N. Y., former National champion, by a sudden spurt in the last round landed in eighth place his score being 144-75-69-233. Joe Kirkwood finished 144-75-74-286.

The Nut Cracker

McGOWAN, Ala. — Connie Mack says he is liable to surprise the boys this year..... By that he means he may take on a little weight.

It is easy to believe that Mack was a crack catcher in his day. Indeed, he still resembles a crack somewhat.

The Athletics' training camp here is a natural bowl, so the pitchers have very little trouble with their soup bones.

Owing to Mr. Mack's propensity for grabbing off youngsters, Montgomery mothers do not take their babies out riding after dusk.

A magician by the name of Blackstone is playing at one of the local theaters and, being an amazingly original magician, he does a card trick. "Will someone kindly step to the stage and assist me in this trick?" The Great Blackstone (see three sheets asks).

Up steps Mr. George Franklin Walberg, a pitcher on the Athletics' payroll.

"Now I have six cards in my hand, sir," resumes The Great Blackstone (see lobby exit.) "Will you kindly name a number from one to six?"

Mr. George Franklin Walberg wrinkles his massive brow and, unimpressed by the consequences, tries to think. In due time he announces, "not without a faint trace of triumph, 'EIGHT'."

For fear that you may think Mr. George Franklin Walberg is a joker and was making merry at the expense of The Great Blackstone (see morning papers, page 14) we hasten to add that he is a left-hander—just a left-hander.

The Athletics were in second place at one time last summer, and then slumped to sixth. Mr. Mack assures you this will not happen again. The inference being, we suppose, they will never be second again.

A rookie pitcher with the Athletics is named Bannister, and it is presumed he keeps in condition running up and down stairs.

Eddie Remmel's knuckle ball has made him famous, which proves what

BANDIT?

Pittsburg (Pa.) detective saw a suspicious looking "young man" loitering around the Union Depot. They walked over to question "him." A revolver flashed at them. In the scuffle that followed, the "young man's" cap came off, revealing a shock of blond bobbed hair. It was a girl. At headquarters, she said her name was Helen Bateman. But she refused to answer any questions. She participated in several taxicab holdups, police say.

MILLIONAIRE LEADS BULGAR RED FACTION

Feodorov, Bulgaria — Katcho Dimoff, millionaire dealer in gasoline and lubricating oils, was the leader of the local communists in their recent vain efforts to overthrow the Tsankoff government and set up a Soviet republic. Asked why he was conspicuous in a movement aimed at the denial of property rights, Dimoff said: "There are other rights to be considered besides my own."

The largest of the United States arsenals are located at Rock Island, Ill., and Springfield, Mass. The first geological period, called the azoic, contained no trace of life in any form.

The public debt of the United States last year was $22,155,886,402.70.

WENDLANDT WINS BITTER CONTEST IN NEW LONDON

Largest Vote in History Is Poll- ed After Sharp Mayoralty Fight

After a hard fought and bitter campaign which brought out the largest vote in the city's history, E. W. Wendlandt was reelected mayor of New London by a majority of 399 votes over A. C. Hermann, former mayor, on Tuesday. Mr. Wendlandt received 1,021 of the 1,680 votes cast while Mr. Hermann received 622. All records for voting in the city went by the boards in Tuesday's balloting. Election day was preceded by one of the most interesting campaigns ever held in the city.

The terrific interest in election in New London is indicated in the close races in several of the wards. In the Third ward, which is in Outagamie county, the first count of ballots gave Henry Fuerst a majority of one vote over J. G. Hildebrand in the race for election as supervisor. Fuerst received 162 votes and Hildebrand had 161. The ballots are to be recounted today.

PRAISE SERB POET AS STAR REPORTER

Jugoslavian Minister To Bulgaria Displays Versatility In Reports

By Associated Press
Belgrade — Conservative Serbians have words of high praise for the activities of M. Rakitch, Jugoslavian minister plenipotentiary to Bulgaria. In informing his government and the press correctly as to the progress of events in Bulgaria during the recent Communique uprising.

While the semi-official organ of the foreign office here was putting out much misinformation about the development and scope of the disorders, M. Rakitch was quoted in conservative Belgrade newspapers as giving a correct presentation of the situation across the border.

M. Rakitch was responsible, for instance, for the information that there had been no battles around Sofia, that no armies of peasants and Communists were marching upon the Bulgarian capital in many thousands; that the king was not in flight, and that the prime minister had not been killed in action against the Communists.

What M. Rakitch informed his government and the conservative press of Belgrade was that Sofia was quite safe from any menace by peasants and Communists, that the situation was at no time beyond the control of the government, and that the movement was not the protest of an oppressed people but the act of the Moscow Third International, acting through deluded partisans.

In addition to be an able reporter, M. Rakitch is probably the greatest of living Serbian poets.

BERLIN DOUBTS COP'S TEARS IN COOGAN PICTURE

Weeping Policeman In "My Boy" Is Too Much For Teuton's Imagination

By Associated Press
Berlin—The weeping policeman in Jackie Coogan's film, "My Boy," is too much for German imagination.

The German film fans know that a German policeman couldn't weep and are very skeptical about the ability of an American "cop" to shed tears. They even doubt whether one of the brass-buttoned bluecoats across the Atlantic could be moved to tears by Jackie Coogan's many film trials and tribulations.

If the policemen in America are as tender-hearted as the big fellow who weeps when he is forced to arrest given 78 votes for justice in the First ward.

George F. Fiedler remains as supervisor from the First ward with 113 votes and William Beck in the Second with 113 votes.

Jackie Coogan for law-breaking, one of the Berlin newspapers says it must be a fine place for criminals.

But the weeping American policeman doesn't keep the crowds away from "My Boy," and thousands of German women are going to see Jackie again and again for the purpose of having a good cry over his plight. Some of the film critics have some hard things to say about American sentimentalism, but the German public seems to enjoy it immensely.
